8955: CASUAL VACANCY.

This was ongoing.

8956: PRESENTATION: Cllr ANGUS ROSS.

Cllr Ross introduced himself and Cllr Bath. Cllr Ross was the Environment Portfolio holder at WBC. Responsibilities included: Waste Collections & Disposal, Drainage and Flooding, Public Rights of Way Greenways Project, Sport & Leisure, Country Parks, Open Spaces, Play Areas, Trees and SANGs, Energy & Climate Change. Cllr Bath was his deputy and shared the responsibility. The visit to Sonning made it the 10th Council they had met. Going briefly through the portfolio Cllr Ross said that:

1. Flooding was an important issue and included drainage. The Flood and Water Management Act, introduced in 2010, handed responsibility for flood and water management over to lead Local Authorities, water companies, riparian owners and the Environment Agency. WBC were putting together a robust list of ditches in need and of official assets near water. By-laws, giving WBC powers to ensure that developers maintained drainage, were being introduced and WBC were preparing a drainage strategy. This had now gone into the local plan and developers had to present a maintenance programme with their planning applications. The strategy aimed to provide a template to ensure a good drainage system and minimise the effect of new development on water. Eddie Napper (WBC drainage engineer) now worked with the planning team over this and Mr Napper had an assistant, Val Hobson, to help deal with the workload. WBC were now better placed and had emergency plans for major incidents.
2. Recycling. Cllr Ross had come to the job just as the blue bag system had been introduced. Recycling rates were based on the % of waste that was re-cycled. Their target was to re-cycle 50% of all waste by 2019. Food waste re-cycling had not been introduced but might be considered as part of the next contract, it was a matter of using the best method to do collections.
3. Leisure and Sport. Cllr Ross said that his predecessor, Cllr Malcolm Bryant, had done a good job on consulting on a new strategy which included health and wellbeing, improving leisure centres and keeping them open. There were plans to replace Bulmershe and Carnival Pool and a new Sports Complex was being built at Ryeish Green and Arborfield.
4. Public Rights of Way. Ways of linking new developments to the community via public rights of way were under consideration. It was noted that Sonning had very few rights of way. Cllr Ross handed over to Cllr Bath who said that his background was working in the energy industry. The EU required 90% of energy to be renewable, most of this would be through wind turbines and WBC were working towards this goal. Wind was limited, on a cold day, with no wind, there would be no energy. WBC were not against renewables and were looking for projects, which would also provide an income, possibly sites for battery storage that would back up the National Grid, 2 acres could produce energy for 2 million homes. Cllr Haines asked how much it would cost for small developments and Cllr Bath said several millions. Cllr Bath said that climate change had increased the risk of flooding etc. The temperature was rising, 1 degree over the last 15 to 20 years, and the water temperature in the sea was also rising.

The Chairman said that drains and ditches in the Parish were not being maintained at the same level as in the past, perhaps due to financial restrictions. There was a suggestion that raising the Playhatch Road would solve the flooding in that area but this was unlikely and recent road works in the area had caused traffic to back up in both directions and 84 cars had tried to cross Sonning Bridge at the same time. Cllr Ross said that ditches were not the responsibility of WBC unless they adjoined land in their ownership. Cllr Haines said that the drains in Sonning were Victorian and in poor repair, many no longer went in the original direction and had the wrong slope. The Chairman asked who should drain the rivers and Cllr Ross replied that the EA worked on the theory that rivers should self-clean, however fallen trees did cause blockage but dredging was not encouraged. In 2014 the problem was that ground water was getting into the sewage system, there were lots of elements to consider.

Mr Fisher asked what Sonning could do to be greener. Cllr Ross suggested that identifying and reporting blocked drains, adopting a street for residents to litter pick and having an emergency flood plan. Val Hobson could be called in to help. The Chairman said that a recent planning application at the Great House had shown local areas at risk of flooding, and there were many, along the river. Mr Runnalls said that the road outside the Golf Club often flooded. The Chairman said that water meadows had always existed alongside rivers and took most of the flood water but these were being built on. Cllr Haines said that Woodley had introduced a wild flower area in some of its parks and Cllr Ross said that he would like to see other parishes adopting similar planting and invited Sonning to make suggestions. The Chairman said that he would like Sonning residents to do more, residents were always interested in planning applications but not a lot more. Cllr Ross suggested that welcome packs for new residents might be helpful to and Cllr Haines said that he had his own. Cllr Ross said that WBC had to try to save money, at one time Eddie Napper had 3 assistants now he only had one. The public should be encouraged to self-help and to share responsibility.

As there were no more questions Cllrs Ross and Bath took their leave and the Chairman thanked them and said that it had been most interesting to listen to what they had to say.
